BC Education Ltd

BC Education Ltd believes that raising standards and creative learning go hand in hand. Debs Bragard and Jane Creed have many years of specialist experience working with teachers, individual schools and clusters to raise standards in the teaching and learning of English.

Debs and Jane are committed to:

- Supporting schools to raise standards so that all children meet age-related expectations
- Helping schools to address the challenges of KS1 and KS2 tests and teacher assessments
- Delivering a wide range of professional development courses
- Working with schools to ensure progress is 'Good' or 'Outstanding'
- Offering personalised packages of support and training for networks or individual schools
- Developing subject knowledge, understanding and enthusiasm for teaching English
- Developing the expertise of English Subject Leads

Bespoke support and training for individual schools

Is attainment in reading or writing a cause for concern in your school? Do you have issues with progress from KS1 to KS2? Have you had a dip in any of your English SATs results?

BC Education can work with you to develop a focused, systematic and consistent approach to the teaching of English. Jane or Debs will meet with you to discuss school issues and identify priorities which will inform a package of support.

Packages of support will be tailored to meet the needs of the individual school but may include some or all of the following:

- Full audit including data analysis, planning and work scrutinies, learning walks, lesson observations
- Action planning
- Subject Lead support
- Whole staff INSET/s including staff meetings, twilights and full day Insets
- Support for identified teachers/year groups

Substantial discounts will be given to schools entering into a contract of support.

Please contact Debs or Jane to discuss availability and cost – debs@bced.co.uk or jane@bced.co.uk

Feedback from Senior Management:

"St Paul's has worked extensively with Jane on developing a whole school consistent strategy for writing. This work has had a pivotal role on our journey back to 'Good'. The professional development for all staff and subject leaders has been of the highest quality."

Simon Wright, Head Teacher, St. Paul's CE Primary School, Tameside

"If you want excellence in English from children, you require it from teachers. Working with Debs is the way to get it – what she doesn't know isn't worth knowing."

Ian Williams, Head Teacher, Christchurch C of E Primary School, Warrington

BC Education's Teacher's PAL:

An Online Toolkit for planning and assessment for learning

The Teacher's PAL is unique: it is a comprehensive toolkit which supports planning, teaching and assessing writing. It is designed to improve children's writing and make teachers' lives easier!

The PAL makes planning faster, on-going assessment quicker and teaching more effective. Schools using the Teacher's PAL report that it also improves teacher subject knowledge, supports differentiation/challenge and raises attainment in writing.

The Teacher's PAL Toolkit is an online planning, teaching and assessment system, supplemented by a teacher's file. It provides:

- a set of unique objectives from Reception to Year Seven which simplify the challenge of differentiation and accelerate progress
- small steps in teaching and learning so that pupils and teachers experience success
- an online system which saves time and makes planning and on-going assessment meaningful
- an opportunity to see progress throughout the year towards end-of-year/phase/Key Stage standards
- exemplar texts (WAGOLLS) which save time, support subject knowledge and demonstrate progression
- a teacher's file which supports subject knowledge and provides alternative ways to and assess

Feedback from schools:

"Teachers like to save time and to be more streamlined. The Online PAL has enabled them to do that ... it's quicker, it's more efficient which means they spend more time on brilliant content and exciting ideas ... SMT is able to have access very quickly ... (this) means we can look at what data is telling us and then go and see it in the books. We can clearly see the impact of using the PAL on standards in writing ... our data is in line with national at the Expected Standard and Greater Depth for the first time."

Kati-Anne Roughley, Head Teacher, E-Act Blackley Academy, Manchester

Bespoke in-school training for individual schools or clusters/networks

Bespoke training can be provided for individual schools or established clusters/networks of schools. We can also provide any of our external training courses for schools as INSETs. We actively encourage schools to identify common priorities across their clusters/networks and use training budgets in a cost-effective manner. In this way, schools can also develop cross-school peer support and create opportunities to strengthen the clusters/networks.

See below for popular individual school and cluster/network INSET training courses. These can be tailored for a range of audiences e.g. whole school, Key Stage specific, year group specific, teachers or teaching assistants. If these suggestions don't meet your CPD needs, please contact us to discuss a more bespoke approach to training.

Possible timetable options:

Option A: Full day: 9.00am to 3.30 pm

Option B: Morning session(s): 9.00am to 12.00pm

Option C: Afternoon session(s): 1.00pm to 4.00pm

Option D: Twilight session(s): 3.30 – 5.30pm

Prices for INSET training and cluster/network training will be based on timetable options and final numbers of delegates.

Please contact Debs or Jane to discuss training needs, availability, timetable options and cost: debs@bced.co.uk or jane@bced.co.uk.
